A KISSING EPISODE.

Exchange.

Shyly he bent o'er the dainty head
And, "Won't you, won't you?"
He softly said.

Begging from the saucy miss
Just for the loan of one sweet kiss.

The maiden tossed her pretty head
And, "No, I won't you."
She saucily said.

"How foolish he is," thought the little miss,
"He should not ask for, but steal the kiss."

THE MINING MANIA.

The Mining Fever of 1863—Freighting Across the Plains—The Rush for Colorado.

From the New York Times.

After California had settled down to steady work, and the placer mining—the "poor man's mining" as it is called in the West—had given way largely to the working of quartz veins, which requires expensive machinery; and associated capital to defray the great cost of the work, a furious excitement broke out about Colorado. It lasted till after the close of the war. It began in 1858—9, with the rush for Pike's Peak, though, in reality, the mining was not done within a hundred miles of it. Where Denver now stands, along Cherry Creek, and away up west and north in the mountains, were the places to which the miners swarmed. In 1863 the excitement commenced here; in 1865 it was at its height. Probably the men who made the most money in that great time of mad speculation were the freighters across the plains. Mining machinery was sent out to an extent that old Plainsmen and mining engineers who remember those days speak of with astonishment. There was

NO PACIFIC RAILROAD THEN;

and from the Missouri river to the mountains everything had to be carried on wagons. Nebraska City and Atchison were the two chief points. One gentleman who was engaged in mining then, says that the amount of every kind of mining machinery stored at Atchison was so great that the warehouse could not contain it all, and the levee for two or three acres was covered with it. The parcels got mixed up in frightful confusion, and he had to spend two days searching the storage places of one freighting firm to find the stuff he was looking for. Many companies spent all their money in getting the machinery out even to the Missouri, and many more in endeavoring to get it across the plains. The Sioux Indians were exceedingly troublesome in those days, and freights went up to 15, 20, 25, and even 30 CENTS A POUND.

Thousands upon thousands of pounds of machinery went at these rates. All along the trail the ruins of broken down trains were to be seen; here a wagon, there a boiler; here portions of a stamp mill, there dead horses and mules, and dead oxen were fairly sprinkled along the route. Sometimes parties who had charge of affairs would think to save money by doing their own freighting, and, purchasing wagons and cattle, send a train out under the command of some man who possibly had never done freighting before in his life. Disaster was almost inevitable; the cattle were either stampeded by the Indians, or by bad management perished from overwork, starvation and thirst. But still, while the mania raged, as fast as one concern went down another came on, until at last the bubble burst, and thousands of honest people were ruined; a few shrewd speculators made money, and such a deep distrust of mining enterprises was engendered that until recently no banker or broker here would touch the shares, or any one invest money in them.

A GREAT STORM.

The Tornado That Traveled Through Massachusetts.

Massachusetts was visited by a fearful tornado last Wednesday. In Boston harbor several lives were lost by the upsetting of boats. A yacht capsized off Nantucket and four persons were drowned. The rainfall was very heavy in various places, and some hailstones measured seven inches in circumference. Lightning caused the loss of a few lives. Two boats were capsized off Scituate and three persons were drowned. Near Montreal Mrs. Peter Robertson was killed by lightning. Around about Kingston and Saugertes, New York State, the crops were ruined. At Fitchburg the storm lasted only three minutes. The spire of the Universalist church was hurled into Main street opposite the Rollstone house. Houses were unroofed and trees torn up. At Pittsfield several persons were killed and more wounded. Buildings were blown down and hundreds of trees uprooted. A black cloud springing up in the west, while the thermometer marked 86 degrees, was the first warning of the approach of the storm. In fifteen minutes the sky was so black that gas had to be lighted. Rain mingled with hail, a rushing wind and almost incessant lightning and thunder, made the storm memorable. The track of the tornado was not over sixty rods wide. Its course for many miles can be traced by overthrown houses, ruined orchards and demolished barns.

THE GREAT RUSSIAN ROBBERY.

A Daring Scheme Successfully Carried Out—Burglary of the Russian Treasury—1,567,000 Roubles Stolen.

[From the Golos.]

In the city of Kherson a house, next to the government treasury buildings was to let, and a lady, about 40 years old, under the name of Mrs. Dr. Nikitine, took it on June 5. As it needed repairs, which the housekeeper would not make, the lady herself engaged two plasterers, who began work before she took possession and continued it afterward. The lady had a cook, a young woman with a child. There seemed nothing suspicious about the party. But on June 23 the officer entering the vault of the treasury found some trunks broken open and 1,567,000 roubles stolen. It was strange that out of seven trunks there only the three which contained the most of the money were opened. Neither the tenants of the neighboring house nor the quasi-plasterers could anywhere be found. Mrs. Nikitine's house was locked, and when it was broken into alarming discoveries were made. In the kitchen floor there was an opening capable of admitting a man; beneath the floor was a narrow subterranean passage by which the treasury vault had been entered. The passage connected with the outside by the stove pipes, which apparently served to supply air to

THE WORKERS UNDER GROUND.

The wall of the vault was broken from the passage. In the house the following articles were found: The ashes of the plasterers' clothes in the stove, a small lantern, a crowbar, paints for the disguise of the face, empty wine and beer bottles, the remnants of cigarettes, a bottle of pepper spirits from the neighboring drug store, Bologna sausages, sardines and cheese.

The neighbors stated that they saw the lady leave the house on Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock, and that two unknown men, carrying bags, left in a drosky on the morning of the same day. All the drosky drivers of the city were at once summoned and closely questioned without any result.

It was found that only bills of large denominations (100 roubles and upwards) had been taken, and that the small bills had been put aside. The government papers had been left, but the passport blanks, conscripts' blanks and internal revenue stamps were gone. It is apparent that the thieves were aware of all the contents of the trunks in the treasury.

Telegrams were immediately sent to all the important points of the empire; the city and the neighboring villages were at once occupied by the soldiers; the most skilful detectives are employed. But as yet the thieves have not been found.

MISTAKES ABOUT MONEY.

Men are apt to look upon money as actual wealth. The old notion that it is a bad thing for money to be going out of a country, is still entertained by many. But statesmen long ago saw that it mattered little where the money went, so long as its equivalent in goods was received in exchange. Money is not wealth, but only the representative of wealth. If every coin, and every piece of paper representing money, were swept out of existence to-morrow, the actual wealth of the world would remain the same as to-day. Individuals would suffer, but mankind, the world in general, would have sustained no actual loss. Of course, such a destruction of money would be a calamity, because its effect would be the utter overthrow of existing institutions of trade. But, what is wealth? The accumulated products of industry which can satisfy the wants or the desires of mankind. Food and clothing, and houses for shelter, are the simplest forms of wealth. There are, besides, thousands of commodities useful or agreeable to man. Destroy all the money, and yet there remain all the things that men value. The world is not poorer by one grain of corn, not poorer by one yard of cloth, not poorer in anything that can give either pleasure or subsistence to mankind, than it was before.

The inconvenience of barter made it necessary to adopt some medium of exchange. Step by step, by gradual changes, through long ages, coins of gold and silver came to have an exchangeable value for the products of industry everywhere throughout the world. So long ago did money come into use, that men in time lost sight of the fact that it is only by general consent, as a matter of convenience, that money has any exchangeable value whatever. But, within the present century, men like Adam Smith and John Stuart Mill, thought out the laws of trade, the science of wealth called political economy. That money is not wealth is a truth so simple that a child can readily understand it. But there are many politicians, demagogues, editors even, who are ignorant of this primary law of trade. One reads that the money is going out of this or that town, that one or another country is being drained of its money, and dreadful things are predicted as a result. What nonsense! When a ship carries away from England a sack of English sovereigns, and takes back in exchange a cargo of American wheat, is England a loser by the transfer? Certainly not, if she has received in grain a fair equivalent for the gold she shipped. Then, if Reno sends money to San Francisco and gets in return its worth in goods, is Reno poorer? Will not those goods exchange for the grain and wool grown by the farmers, and that produce be again exchangeable into money? And yet many still entertain the notion that it is a bad thing for money to go out of a place in exchange for merchandise. And men who ought to know better give currency to such falacies.

A HUMBUG MATCH.

The Call asserts that the women's walking match, now on in San Francisco, is a great job on the public, put up by the Chronicle and Cotton, the agent for the pedestriennes. The Call maintains that it is no match, but simply an exhibition. It says: "To recapitulate, the public has been gulled, the walkers, with the exception of Edwards and Chapelle, who are in collusion with Cotton, and will do as he tells them, have been defrauded, and the managers and their organ, the Chronicle, have reaped a goodly harvest. Whatever may have been thought of the last match, it is certain that the present one cannot with propriety be visited by respectable ladies, and it is quite likely that the ephemeral interest awakened in it will soon die out and be forgotten by the public." Miss Von Berg, a noted walker, told a Call reporter that "Mike De Young came to me and my friends and offered me $500 to enter the match." It appears that the Chronicle wants to manage all the contests in California this summer.

EDITORIAL NOTES

An exchange remarks that "Mr. John S. Hallman, of Manheim, Lancaster county, has an egg laid by a common hen that measures 7¼ by 5¼ inches." The dimensions of the hen as stated, 7¼ by 5¼ inches, seem somewhat remarkable. It is indeed curious that such a fowl should be able to lay an egg. But it does not appear, from the brief description, whether the hen girths 7¼ inches or whether she is 7¼ inches long. The 5¼ inches no doubt refers to the width of the fowl, and she must be a very narrow hen. It would be interesting to know whether the measurement of this oblong bird was made under or outside of the feathers. The great trouble with these descriptions is their neglect of detail.

The erection of works at Reno for the reduction of rebellious ore will be another stride forward in the prosperity of the place. As stated in another column, such works will immediately be constructed for the reduction of ore by the new electric process. E. V. Julien, of the Esmeralda mine, has spent several weeks in San Francisco in thoroughly testing the new process, and its practicability has been demonstrated, as well as its cheapness. The application of electricity to the reduction of ores is one of the latest and best uses of that subtile fluid.

From our dispatches of to-day, it appears that the yellow fever is likely to develop into a decimating plague this summer. The disease is spreading and a panic may be expected.

The California Democrats, as telegraphed this afternoon, have decided not to throw Glenn overboard. The probability is that Glenn helps their ticket more than they help him.

A call was issued yesterday for a convention of the National Greenback Labor party of New York, to be held at Utica, August 28, for the nomination of a state ticket.

General Wolseley telegraphs from Pietremaritzburg (June 30) to the War Office as follows: "I believe the war can be finished this season. I hope to reach Port on Wednesday. From there I will join Colonel Wool and the second division, near Ululandi."

A Yankton telegram says: The boy of Ben Arnold was found hanging by the neck to the limb of a tree at Chain De Roche, twenty-five miles above Fort Thompson, last Saturday. The supposition is that he had been doing something bad, and was hung as an example to other evil-doers.

In the prize shooting at Wimbledon yesterday, Frank Hyde, an American, was ahead at the 1000-yards range. Morse, an American; Adams, a Canadian, and fourteen others, made the highest possible score at the 800-yards range. Hyde and six others made the highest possible score at the 900-yards range.

THE LOST DIAMOND.

Curious Story of a Diamond Ring Lost On The Train.

The Truckee Republican tells the following story:

"Some sixweeks ago a widow lady, traveling on the cars between here and Boca, while washing her hands, lost a diamond ring in the wash-bowl of the car. Upon reaching Boca, she returned on foot to Truckee, accompanied by a friend, both searching the track carefully between the two stations. The search being unsuccessful, telegrams were sent to Virginia and the wash bowl and pipe leading therefrom were carefully examined, but the lost jewel could not be fouud. The ring was worth $150, but as a family keepsake it was valued almost beyond price."

Subsequently the ring was picked up on the track near Truckee. The finder showed it at Stockton, and was arrested on suspicion of having stolen it. The ring at last accounts was in the possession of the Stockton police, but the lady has been notified of the fact, and will probably soon recover her lost jewel.

A Horse Trade In Colorado.

An honest miner sat in a contemplative mood before the door of a saloon in Denver. Slowly down the street came a solitary horseman, ill mounted, poorly clad, meagerly equipped, and stopped in front of the sitter.

"Stranger," said he, "I want to sell yer a horse."

"Stranger," was the reply, "I don't want him."

"Stranger," rejoined the wayfarer, "you really must buy him. You never saw a better horse for the price."

"What is the price, stranger?" asked the contemplative man.

"A hundred and fifty dollars, and dirt cheap at that."

The inquirer meditated a few moments and then blandly remarked, "I'll give yer five."

The equestrian dismounted, saying with earnestness. "Stranger, I won't allow a hundred and forty-five dollars to stand between you and me and a trade. The horse is yours."

Sunstroke in Nevada.

[Winnemucca Silver State.]

It is reported that a man named John Wood, who for several years was section foreman at Mill City, and subsequently worked for E. W. Crutcher at Piute Valley, died yesterday at Guthries ranch from sunstroke. He was a large, fleshy man, and it appears over-heated himself, and dropped down dead while mowing. It is supposed that he had considerable money in some California savings bank.

Why will you suffer? Send to A. E. Mintie, M. D., No. 11 Kearney street, San Francisco, or the Restorative, and be cured. Price, $3 per bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Try a bottle. Dr. Mintie treats all private diseases successfully.

The New Dam.

Work on the new mill dam is progressing rapidly. It requires a great quantity of stone to fill it in. A change in the plans has been made. It has been decided to make it four and a half feet high, instead of three and a half as originally intended.

Mr. Jenvey and Wife Returned.

Rev. W. R. Jenvey and bride returned from California this morning. They spent some days at Santa Cruz during their stay in California. Mr. Jenvey expresses himself as delighted with the trip. His congregation will be glad to welcome him to-morrow.

ROD AND GUN.

The Game and Fish About Reno—Unsurpassed Fishing and Shooting—Good Sport All the Year—A Good Home for Invalids.

Few places can offer so many attractions to the sportsman as Reno. The gun need never rest in idleness here for want of game. There is good shooting and fishing about Reno the year round. The mountain streams are swarming with gamy trout. The Truckee river, flowing through the town, is famous for its fine fish. Trout are not now numerous in the Truckee, nor are they easily caught, but their size makes up for their comparative scarcity. But Pyramid lake abounds with them, big fellows that double up the rod and make the angler's reel hum with the music he likes best to hear. The lake fishermen call a five-pound trout a "small fish." They catch sometimes trout weighing as high as seventeen pounds. A keen angler, with a fine fly rod, would enjoy "tying up" to such a fish all Summer, if he could spare the time. As for shooting, one can find game any day within an hour's walk from town. Rabbits and quail are often noticed within the town limits. The snipe shooting will commence on August 1st. Truckee Meadows is their favorite resort. A gunner can make a good bag of English snipe in the meadows, only a few miles from Reno.

THIRTY SNIPE IN A DAY

is not an uncommon bag on the Truckee Meadows. The Jack snipe is a very hard bird to shoot, flying in a zigzag line that baffles the novice with the gun. It is this eccentricity of flight, and the solitary habits of the bird that make snipe shooting the finest kind of sport to many gunners. In the fall come the ducks and geese, to remain all winter. Their morning and evening flights over the Truckee Meadows, afford the best of sport to the gunner. The citizen of Reno can shoulder his gun at daybreak, walk to the Meadows, shoot a backload of ducks, and return in time for breakfast. Brant and swan are often shot during the winter. Curlew are numerous in the fall. Sage hens and quail afford fine sport in their season. Flocks of quail are frequently seen within two miles of town. Jack rabbits and cottontails are numerous and always with us. In the mountains the great black, or mountain grouse are to be found; a magnificent game bird, that tries

THE GUNNER'S UTMOST SKILL.

These birds are larger than the domestic fowl and make a royal dish for the table. Large game can be hunted in the mountains. Deer are sufficiently numerous to furnish good hunting. One day last winter a deer was chased by a locomotive on the V. & T. road and captured by the engineer. Wild cats and lynx are sometimes found within a few miles of town. There is good dove shooting all summer long, and the birds may be found almost at the door. The shooting at Reno is good the year round, and the same is true of the fishing. With a climate so dry and wholesome, bright skies, abundance of game and fish, grand scenery, and all its other attractions, Reno is well adapted as a home for invalids, and is already a place of resort for sportsmen. The climate is especially well suited to people with pulmonary complaints.

Electric Reduction Process.

T. V. Julien, Sup't. of the Esmeralda Mining Company, returned from San Francisco yesterday. He reports that the Electric process for treating ores is a great success. As soon as is practicable, Electric Reduction works will be erected on the Truckee river at Reno. The projectors of the enterprise are now selecting a site for operations. The management of the works will be counected with the Esmeralda Mining Company. A full description of the process will appear in an early number of the GAZETTE.

A Carson Fiction.

The Carson Appeal of yesterday had a long story of an elopement from Virginia City; of how the young couple were parted at the station in Reno; how Jerry Harriman, the wicked adventurer, went on to the sea; and how the relentless uncle restored the young lady to the troubled bosom of her family on the Comstock. But it is curious that the Virginia papers haven't been able to learn anything about it, and the story is certainly unknown in Reno. Greenhood must be at his old tricks.

"The Merry, Merry Maid."

Amy Sherwin's maid was discharged in Reno night before last. The girl came to the GAZETTE office yesterday and said she wanted to have her thanks recorded for the kindness shown her by the proprietor of the Arcade. She said that Gorlitz, Amy Sherwin's husband, is a bad man, and that he broke his engagement with her (the maid.) Amy Sherwin, she called a good woman. The girl was left here, she said, almost destitute, and had been very kindly treated by Reno people. She returned to Virginia yesterday.

Furniture Sale.

Rev. Mr. Lucas has written to Mr. Jenvey and has asked him to dispose of his furniture. This is to be done by private sale. Any one desiring excellent bargains in this line can now be gratified. Either Miss Adams or Mr. Jenvey will be at the rectory next Monday and Tuesday from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. for the purpose of selling these articles.

THE ARITHMETIC MAN.

The Lightning Calculator on the Street.

A poverty-stricken looking man mounted a dry goods box at the corner of Commercial Row and Virginia streets last evening and proceeded to address the crowd. His clothes were greatly the worse for wear, and he had much the appearance of the typical tramp. In one hand he swung an extemporized blackboard, which appeared to have been made by wrapping a yard of black cloth around a box cover. He was at first mistaken for a Democratic stump speaker, or a Kearney man, but when he began to talk many took him for a lunatic. He talked so fast that it was impossible to understand him, and accompanied himself on the blackboard with a most astonishing series of figures. It at last appeared that he was a teacher of mental arithmetic by some new method which would be imparted under the seal of secrecy, and for coin in hand. He would propound a problem like this: What is the interest on $2,965 at 13½ per cent. for 463 days? He would then strike his forehead a crushing blow, and immediately write down an answer on the board. After considerable display of his powers as a calculator, he was about to depart, when a young man came forward to give him some problems to work out by his mental lightning process. But the mathematician said that his exhibition had closed for the evening, and the crowd with groans dispersed.

Foot-race At Carson.

There will be a foot-race at Carson to-morrow, Sunday, between John H. Ryan, a Sacramento man, and a runner from Virginia, probably Jack Hallinan. The distance will be 100 yards, and the stakes $300. Ryan won a foot-race against Hallinan on Thursday night at Virginia.

A Query.

ED. GAZETTE:—When State Treasurer Crockett is allowed his per centage for handling the money used in buying those 4 per cent. bonds, for which the Journal says he paid 2¼ premium, where does the profit to the state come in. CITIZEN.

The Razorial Art.

Banner Brothers' Clothing Store.

The Banner Brothers have constantly coming and always on hand the latest styles of Clothing of every variety. They are live men and mean business. They sell at the very lowest possible rates. Look at some of their prices:

Full Suits—Coat, Pants and Vest...$ 5.00
Men's Cassimere Suits.....$ 7.50
Men's Diagonal Suits.....$15.00
Black Dress Suits.....$25.00

These suits are worth double the present prices. Banner Brothers have the finest stock to be found on this coast, embracing everything a man can get on his back together with all sorts of trunks and valises to put it in. They have just received an immense stock of Spring and Summer goods. Call and see them. Corner of C and Taylor streets, Virginia, Nev. BANNER BROTHERS. jun 19

Talk is Cheap,

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast when we say that we defy competition in prices in anything in our line. Besides this we have only one price. We have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at our establishment. Our stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this state. Everything we have is new. No old, musty, and out-of-date goods can be found on our shelves. We receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of our prices, and examine our stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops, in which they dram into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No storekeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing. we make a profitoneverything we sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of our specialties. The Truckee and Steamboat Canal.

Lung Chung & Company, the contractors who are building the 33 miles of the Truckee and Steamboat Ditch, have now finished 28½ miles, leaving four and one-half miles to finish the contract. They are trying to get money to pay off the hands to resume the work. They will be at work again inside of the present week. The Truckee and Steamboat Ditch Company have not overpaid nor paid what is due. If they had made their payments we would have had the canal finished long ago. The canal will cost the contractor about $60,000. AH QUONG, Agent,

LEGAL NOTICES.

Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to Ardeen Jones greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Jemima Jones as plaintiff in the Districtcourt of the Second Judicial District, and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this Summons, (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff alleges: That plaintiff and defendant intermarried at Mono county, California, on or about July 29th, A. D. 1873, and ever since have been and now are husband and wife; that on or about September 9th, A. D. 1875, you, the defendant, willfully deserted and abandoned plaintiff, and ever since have so continued and do now so continue to desert, abandon and live apart from the plaintiff against her will, wish or consent; that for more than a year next preceding the commencement of this action you, the defendant, have failed and neglected and now do fail and neglect to provide for the plaintiff the common necessities of life, which neglect is and was not the result of poverty on your part, which you could not have avoided by ordinary industry; that there are no children living of the issue of said marriage and no common property. Plaintiff prays to be restored to her maiden name and for costs, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

SEAL. In testimony whereof I, P. B. Comstock, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this sixth day of December, A. D. 1878.

P. B. COMSTOCK,
Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe county.

Londerback, of St Louis, Mo., both gentlemen prominent in their profession, and which is a guarantee to all buyers of its purity and quality.

I can show thousands of letters from private persons from all parts of the Union and Canada, to testify to its merits and the benefit it has afforded, as a family remedy and tonic.

WHY STAY POOR?

Prospecting often Pays; Idleness Never.

The millions of the Comstock were a lucky find. Worthless looking rock is often rich in treasure. At Leadville a simple assay made millionaires of many. Other bonanzas where least suspected await the coming of some unknown man. Who is he?

At Virginia City, Nevada, assays for Gold and Silver are made at $1.00 per sample, by CONRAD WIEGAND, formerly the Supervising Assayer of the U. S. Mint at San Francisco.

The mail will carry ore-samples to his office for one cent per ounce.

Reports which may be relied on absolutely, come back by return mail, or results are telegraphed when ordered so.

All costs, delays and risks in remitting money are avoided by the purchase of our Dollar Remittance Tickets, which pay for all work done in our establishment.

We sell these prepaid tickets at a discount, when $5 worth or more are ordered at one time.

Small sacks for mailing ore samples also for sale at a nominal price.

REMARKS AND CONDITIONS:

All the trotting races are best three in five, except the two year old trot, which is best two in three.

In all, five to enter, and three to start.

Entries to trotting races to close with Secretary Hoag on August 1st, 1879.

Entrance fee, ten per cent. on purse.

When there are eight or more starters in a trotting race, 150 yards shall be a distance; and where a horse shall distance the field, he shall be entitled to only the first and third money; the second shall revert to the society.

National Trotting Association rules to govern trotting. But the Board reserve the right to trot heats of any two classes alternately, if necessary to finish any day's racing.

Nominations in running stakes to be made to Secretary Hoag on or before July 15th, 1879. Three or more required to fill.

Entries to running purses must be made: For Monday's races, on the Saturday preceding; for Wednesday's races on Monday; and for Friday's races, on Wednesday, all at the regular time for closing entries, as designated by the rules. Three to enter, and if there are not two starters, the money reverts to the Society.

Those who have nominations in stakes, must name to the Secretary in writing the horses they will start on Monday, on Saturday previous; and on Wednesday, the Monday previous; and on Friday, the Wednesday previous; and no added money will be paid for a walk over.

Horses entered in purses can only be drawn by consent of the Judges.

Rules of Pacific Coast Blood Horse Association to govern running races, except as above specially provided.

RECORD PREMIUM.

In addition to the above attractive programme, the Society will give a premium of a 250 Silver Plate to any horse, mare, or colt that, during the Fair week, makes on their track the fastest record ever made in the United States by any horse of any age, for running to rule in an actual contest, one mile, two miles, three or four miles, whether made in a single dash or in heats.

Also, the Society offers the same premium and the same conditions for trotters—for two year olds, three year olds, and four year olds. Also, the fastest record for a mile of any horse ever made in the United States.

It is understood that this premium will be given only for the above named distances and classes. It is also understood that if more than one horse during the week beats either record, only the horse that makes the best time will be entitled to the Plate.
